BUILDING A CAREER

In conjunction with expert providers Finito, Quintessentially Education is delighted to launch a new bespoke development programme for first-time job hunters making the transition from education to employment.

This is a one-to-one intensive training opportunity that allows young people – whether they are school leavers, university graduates, college leavers, mature or overseas students – to build the necessary skills to move forward into the first stage of a productive career.

Delivered in a relaxed and highly-tailored manner, the programme seamlessly fills the gaps between educational establishments and the world of work, by guaranteeing young people access to the guidance, mentoring, support and direction so often lacking when studies culminate.

This bespoke course is an invaluable investment in a productive future. Do come and meet with us to learn more about how the Preparation for Work offering can help you.

EDUCATION EMPLOYMENT AND BEYOND

Finito's programme is different from others on the market. Through one-to-one, hands-on sessions with highly-experienced tutors and business people, students work through a programme of discovery, exploration and action.

Starting off with an analysis of their choice of career, and a consideration of their strengths and weaknesses, they are exposed to senior industry figures as they explore what they want to do and what is important to them as a working person. They then consider how they present themselves, and plan strategies to connect with potential employers in their chosen field, before creating an action plan and addressing the hard skills essential to a successful job hunt.

All those that sign up to the bespoke Work Ready course leave not only equipped to move forward in their chosen career direction, but also with an all-important first reference in hand. All Finito alumni have access to a 24-7 advice hotline, providing assistance around-the-clock from a team of experts capable of answering job-hunt questions whenever they arise.
